Theory: The positive behavior changed of student by the media technology- Cartoon Animations,

Research Symposiums of Education 2017, University of Oxford, UK

According to my theory The positive behavior changed of student by the media technology- Cartoon Animations, the new theory of the behavior changed of student into positive way from the media which have been used in the experimental research in several years ago in many countries by using several media technologies in formats of Cartoon Animation to be the tools of treatment of the research in which has designed by the specific approach to stimulate the student or target group to change their mindset. It's has be apply content into SDG30 concept to tend the student to create the Rights of Nature awareness in their mindset.

Table 1: Mean Of Positive Of Right Of Nature Awareness Creation In Their Character Has The Maximum Of Average Score = 0.42 And Negative Level Have Minimum Average Score = 0.07 For Out Of Target Group: Mean Of Average Score Of Positive Is Maximum=0.77 And SD=0.43

Conclusion of the Researches

The results of the research are accepted the hypothesis at level with significance in both target groups and out of target groups by the treatment as cartoon animation which the content design to create the Rights to the Natural awareness for students.

The student have been easily motivated and relized awareness the right of natural through cartoon animation. Therefore, It can be integrating Rights to the Natural by cartoon animation.
