III. Harmony with nature: the ancient heritage of humankind

17. Around the world, ancient civilizations have a rich history of understanding the symbiotic connection between human beings and nature. Ancient sites, many of which the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) has recognized as part of the world heritage, have a part to play in the spiritual and material life of the twenty-first century.

23. Perhaps the greatest lesson to be learned from the wisdom of sacred traditions is also the simplest: to honour creation by nurturing a kinship with nature.
